

Top Form Group Sharing Insights of Building a Resilient Supply Chain at the ReThink 2024 Conference

8 October 2024

At the Hong Kong ReThink 2024 Conference, Keith Wong, Associate Director of Sustainability for Top Form International (HKEX: 333), joined a group of industry leaders at the “Building Resilient Supply Chains: From Sourcing to Success” panel discussion.

Keith highlighted Top Form’s strategic approach to supply chain resilience, underpinned by the trusted relationships we’ve cultivated with key suppliers. He also emphasized the importance of maintaining a balanced manufacturing footprint across Asia, allowing us to navigate country-specific risks and trade challenges effectively, while continuing to deliver value to our global customers.

This insightful session delved into strategies that empower businesses to build supply chains that are not only resilient but also sustainable, driving long-term success from sourcing to delivery.

“We believe a strategic supply chain partner is built on trust and reliability. These are key properties in managing and mitigating growing volatility and business risks in our business and supply chain.”
